Flame retardant, anti-static rain coverall

Our Netley anti-static rain coverall with elasticated waist is made from a supple fabric that not only moves along with you but it also offers a high degree of protection against precipitation and the dangers caused by static electricity. This flame retardant coverall also complies to EN ISO 14116 limiting flames from spreading and thus protecting the wearer from injuries.

The coverall can be narrowed at the sleeves and ankles by press studs and next to this the sleeves are provided with elasticated windcuffs.
